

Visit Durango Update

- Visit Durango has proposed merging with the City of Durango to create a unified tourism and community development strategy. As part of the partnership, the City of Durango would assume management of the Welcome Center at 802 Main Ave. beginning Jan. 1. City staff and Visit Durango are developing a transition plan and proposal that is expected to go before Durango City Council for approval in January or February 2025.
- Visit Durango underwent a forensic audit at Durango City Council request and the results were reported publicly 11/19/24. Auditors found a number of issues and made several recommendations, including a need for a policy to be created around fraud and theft, credit card usage, travel expenses, bidding, and tipping. Auditors also noted the organization needs to keep a closer eye on expense approvals.

Downtown's Next Step Update

- The City of Durango removed the temporary curb extensions associated with Downtown's Next Step design on downtown Main Avenue for the winter season. The intent of the temporary curb extensions has been to receive feedback and make observations regarding turning movements and deliveries associated with the Downtown's Next Step design. Based on staff observations and public feedback received, city staff will adjust the design of the curb extensions over the winter and reinstall them in the spring with the bump-out program to gather further data on design adjustments.

City of Durango Property Update

- Durango City Councilors approved the sale of a parcel at the corner of College Dr and Camino del Rio back to the Durango & Silverton Narrow Gauge Railroad for $4.3 million. The City purchased the parcel from the Railroad back in 2002 for $2.5 million after Railroad officials approached the City to raise funds. The Railroad retained the right to repurchase the property if the City ever decided to sell. Proceeds from the sale will go back to the Transportation Enterprise Fund.
- In addition, City Council approved the first consideration of an ordinance to buy a parcel of land in the Rivergate planned development area located on Sawmill Road across from State Highway 3. The land would be used to develop future affordable and workforce housing using funds the city received from the American Rescue Plan Act during the COVID-19 pandemic.
